(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, March 31 .- [Exclu sive Dispatch.] A gentleman inti-mately connected with Panama Canal affairs said tonight that this govern-ment and the representative of the Panama Canal Company are both well aware of the exact measures that are heing taken by American and foreign interests to defeat the ratification of the PanamaCanal Treaty by Colombia. He declared with great positiveness that there is no chance that the efforts to defeat the convention will meet with success in Colombia any more than they did before the United States Senate.

In Colombia, the treaty advocates have the advantage because of conditions. It was fired in good and bud weather; was knocked about by the men to see how it stood batter-ing, and was subjected to as many hardships as the ingenuity of men and officers could devise. It withstood all hard knocks in an admirable manner. Several specimens have been taken to various forts along the Atlantic Coast and interior for further trial by en-listed men. The principal points of difference from the present vervice musket are the use of two lugs, instead of one for holding the bolt against the or one for noting the bolt against the rearward pressure of powder, with a resulting increase of strength sufficient to enable a velocity of 200 feet per second and the housing of the magazine in the stock directly below the chamer, instead of having it project to one

JUDGE MURPHY'S FINDINGS IN THE BURDICK INQUEST.

Identity of Murderer not Proved, bu Judge Finds That Pennell's Motive Was, of All Others, the Strongest to Incite Such a Crime.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.I Murphy handed down his findings in the Burdick inquest today, and de-clared that the identity of the murderer had not been proved. The statement is an exhaustive review of the evidence brought out during the inquest.

Special attention is given to the letters exchanged between Arthur R. Pennell and Mrs. Burdick, particularly the one containing a threat against-Bur-dick's life. Concerning these the judge says: "Altogether, these facts would, up the crime and no disposition what-ever to aid the authorities in appre-hending the murderer may be ex-plained, but has not been explained." Speaking of Pennell's relations with Mrs. Burdick, Judge Murphy said: "His, of all others, was the motive strong enough to incite a desperat-mind already steeped in wrongdoing to so foul and cruel a murder. Great Year for State.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31,—"It seems likely that California will have a great year," said Weather Forecaster McAdie tonight. "There is a fine supply of water, and while the rain of March has been hard on the tourists, it has put a big deposit in the streams on which we draw in summer for our crops. This has been one of the rainiest Marches we have ever had. In fact there have been only six Marches in fifty-four years that were wetter, and those did not have a much heavier fall than this past thirty-one days. The rain has been wonderfully well distributed. The whole State has been thoroughly drenched."

best to meet the competition of the United States. Ehenger Parks, M. P., of Birmingham, who presided, said that while in American he was much struck by the number of Englishmen who were occupying responsible positions in American factories.

Many of the best inventions, he added, were the work of Englishmen. The reason England did not adopt labor-saving appliances was the lack of surplus capital, but the English manufacturers would have to make greater use thereof, and "scrap" old machines more rapidly if they desired to be abreast of the times.

Mr. Sparks also spoke of the necessity for appointing business men as Consula, as was done by the United States, and advocated a reform of the present free trade system, and closer trade relations within the enpire as a means of meeting the "American onslaught."

SHAMROCK III'S TRIAL SPIN. FASTEST CHALLENGER BUILT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-AM.] GOUROCK (Scotland) March 31.— [By Atlantic Cable.] Shamrock III and Shamrock I went for a trial spin today. Sunshine and a light steady breeze had succeeded the wild weather of last week. Though the breeze was light, it was decided not to risk anything, and the cup challenger's working topsail was accordingly set. Shamrock I followed suit.

was accordingly set. Shamrock I followed suit.

The challenger was the first to leave her moorings, and looked the picture of a racer as she headed off shore. Out in Gourock Bay the wind was so light that the motion was more drifting than sailing. Shamrork III silipped through the water without leaving a ripple, and carried her head well up. The first time the challenger broke a tack it was apparent that by shortening her fin Designer Fife had produced a boat which was fast on her heel, even compared with cup racers. She carried her way right through the turning, and was off on her new course, while the older boats would have been still looking at it, thus showing herself free from the greatest weakness of Shamrock II. There was no attempt at a set race. Shamrock I went off over a mile ahead, and then the sheets were trimmed off both boats, and a course was laid down channel. The two yachts were close-hauled while crossing the mouths of Holy Loch and Loch Long, and the wind was squally and uncertain. They both sailed faster as they both got a better breeze, and the challenger showed herself to be a little tender in squally weather, but she sailed with her lee rail just clear of the water.

She traveled fast, and closed steadily upon the Shamrock I. Under the mountainous Cowal Peninsula, the land breeze came true and fairly fresh, and the yachts went down channel on what looked like real racing tests, in which the Shamrock III showed greater speed. Sailing in the same water and no better served by the wind, the challenger pulled upon her rival like hauling in a rope, as the boats fetched down the channel, until off Wennyss Bay Shamrock III showed greater speed. Sailing in the same water and no better served by the wind, the challenger she had closed on the Shamrock II by fully a mile, and at the same time had edged quite a quarter of a mile further to windward. Experts consider this performance alone sufficient to stamp the Shamrock III as being under the conditions prevailing today by far the fastest racer buil The challenger was the first to leave from Harvard and Yale for an athletic meeting in London this year.

In the event of a challenge being sent, the meeting will be at the Queen's Club, as before. It is suggested that the most suitable dates would be July it or July is, and that the conditions will probably be on precisely the same lines as those of previous meetings here with the teams of the American universities, and those of the English universities, and those of the English universities in their contests with Yale and Harvard in 1901. The conditions, however, cannot be formulated until the next term, which begins at Oxford and Cambridge the last week of April or the first week of May.

MYSTERY IN

mother and can person.

If the young people have reality outwitted the foxy grandmama, and consummated a secret wedding, they have executed the master coup of all the nistory of loving coups—and therein lies the mystery. The lovers themselves deny with fond regret but very strenuously that they have yet been welded into one by the legal processes. They have refused to be congratulated and declared themselves not ready to ask for grand-maternal forgivenes.

If the wedding took place at Santa Barbara yesteroay the young couple must have fitted back by wings, the bride to be at home to grandmama, and the groom to the Nadeau Hotelclerk and the reporters. Certain it is that they were all in Los Angeles last night several hours before the belated train from Santa Barbara arrived—the girl at the Rosslyn and the youth tossing on his bed at the Nadeau.

There is no doubt that a marriage license was issued yesterday at Santa Barbara to the parties to the local romance. As it is unlikely that some persons were merely perpetrating a hoax, the probability, is that the lovers secured agents to impersonate them and procure the coveted document. The applicants for the license appeared before the County Clerk at 2 p.m., and anticipating knowledge of the trouble, presented an affidavit that the girl was of legal age. After securing the license the two young people dropped out of sight, and a therough search of hotels and boarding places falled to reveal their whereabouts. The next incident will be when "Browny" and Miss Marte try to use their license, unless the grandmother steps in and again blocks either an elopement or wedding.

"Browny," as he isaffectionately called by his flancee, was awakened in his again blocks either an elopement or wedding.

"Browny," as he is affectionately called by his fiancée, was awakened in his room to be shown the announcement of his supposed marriage.

"I don't know anything about," he said, languidly, at first. Then he repeated the statement firmly, as if to end the whole matter there. Then after a pause he added: "I can't imagine where they got any such stuff as that, for there's absolutely no truth in it."
"But you've been up to Santa Barbara, haven't you?"
"No, I have not. I haven't been out of the city. I've been sick the past two days, and have spent almost ail of that time right here in my room. This affair has worked on my nerves so that I just broke down. Part of the time I have spent out to my nurse's house on Seventh street. Last night I almost died."

"I haven't seen her since early yesterday morning. That was when we went together to consult my attorney, 2dr. Bryant. I left her about half past 10 o'clock, and haven't seen her since. On my word of honor I don't know where she is."

TWILIGHT.

The angel of the twilight—
If we could see her face—
Is one of wondrous beauty,
Of gentleness and grace.
She pillows all the weary
Upon her garment's folds,
And they who sigh of sorrow
Within her arms she holds.

The angel of the twilight
Sings rarest lullables—
She croons of coming blessings,
Contentment and heart's ease.
The babe, the man, the woman,
Hear her low voice the while,
And sink to softest slumber,
Led by her song and smile.

The angel of the twilight,
Clad all in dusky gray—
She brings the gentle darkness
That hides the cares of day:
She brings us balm and balsam
From out the starry west,
When crooning, softly, slowly,
She murmurs: "I bring rest."

HYPHENATING MATRIMONY.

A Chicago woman who has been monkeying with Mr. Hymen on a very elaborate and extensive scale has go berself into a precarious predicament, and has appealed to the courts for help. It appears that since the zeal ous lady first fell a victim to Cupid's gent'e wiles, she has been dipping into matrimony quite extravagantly and extemporaneously, as it were having been married on numerous oc stances to about half a dozen men some of whom she has passed through the process of being officially segre range mated from, and some of whom she rinst has not gone to this trouble with. As a natural sequence, she has accumulated quite a miscellaneous colle tion of names, and as she is at present living in a state of more or les single blessedness, and is experiencing considerable difficulty in being properly designated, she asks the honor able court to look over her imposing official title. This may not signify much to the unthinking and unsympathetic person who has had no experience in multifarious matrimony, and who has not done a great deal of loving on the allopathic plan, but there is really considerable annoyance and inconvenlence, mixed with some tall woe in a situation of this kind.

"Since morning the barometer has been failing slowly at Los Angeles, with southerly winds. At present the outlook is unfavgrable for clearing.

"This rain has been general throughout this part of the country and will do an inestimable amount of good. The droughts of years have taken the moisture from the subsoil to an alarming extent, and this rain, together with the other copious showers that have failen lately, will tend to repair that damage by soaking deep into the earth Besides benefiting Southern California, the good effects of this downpour will be felt throughout the whole State and in Southern California, the good effects of this downpour will be felt throughout the whole State and in Southern Oregon. Crop prospects are excellent, and, if all the signs do not fail, we will have a glorious year. Deciduous trees are giving splendid promise, and-orchardists will probably have the banner season of many years."

Last year the total rainfall to this

Last year the total rainfall to this at time was 10.32 inches, barely two-thirds of this season's precipitation. This month has seen but six clear days, a remarkable condition for Southern California. Of the remaining days fitteen have been rainy and ten cloudy. Reports from Riverside county early at this morning are that the storm has broken all records for years. Riverside was flooded most of the night, and and more water fell there than in any one day since 1889. SCHWAR REALLY TO GO.

New York World Claims That Stee Trust's Finance Committee Will Nominate Frick at Meeting Next Week, [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was reported last night, says the World, that when the Fi-nance Committee of the United States Steel Corporation meets next week to name officers, Henry C. Frick will be nominated to succeed Charles M. Schwab as president. It is known that J. Pierpont Morgan regards Frick as the best-informed man in America re-garding the iron and steel industry. Since Schwab's return from Europe where he spent six months for the benefit of his health, he has called on Morgan but two or three times, and each time his visit was very brief. No fault is found with Schwab's abli-ity, which has justified all that Car-negle claims for it.

printed space practically 66 per cent., and it is gratifying to know that the circulation and advertising patronage are also on the increase.

"The Wireless" continues to be the sensation of the year on the "Enchanted Isle," and it is also creating a sensation on this side of the channel, and in fact the wide world over. Thousands of copies of the editions thus far published have gone out through the mails to nearly every civilized section of the globe. "The Wireless" is being taiked of, or soon will be, in every land where the English language is read and spoken, and it may be depended upon that it will also have its praises sounded in foreign tongues. Surely no other newspaper has ever created so much stirat its birth or before it was out of its awaddling clothes. There never has been another "Wireless."

BEATS THE THUNDEREB.

BEATS THE THUNDEREB. It is a great achievement for Avalon to have a regularly-established news-paper receiving by wireless telegraph

Tuesday's "Wireless," the first enlarged number, is much improved typographically, and contains several articles about the "Wireless," reproduced from The Times, besides much original matter of a newsy and entertaining nature. The following from the editorial page contains some valuable information regarding-the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company and the first wireless newspaper served by it:

This storm has not only been an undoubted wonder to the "oldest resident," but has broken all the known March records for many years. In that month 6.13 inches of water fell, as against a March average of 2.64 inches. The total fall for the storm, up to 5 p.m. at the local observation station, was 1.93 inches, of which 1.55 inches had fallen during the twenty-four hours just passed.

Indications are that the storm is not quite over. Cloudy weather and showers may be expected today.

"This storm appeared off the North Pacific Coast last Saturday," said Observer Franklin yesterday afternoon, "and remained there for a few days before moving this way at all. It is now passing slowly eastward, and was centered this morning in the Upper Missouri Valley, with a southerly extension through Nevada to the Colorado Valley. STRONGLY FINANCED.

Eben Smith, a successful miner and a man of very large means formerly of Denver, now resides in an elegant home on Seventh street in Los Angeles. He is a heavy stockholder in the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company and is president of the corporation. He is a man of great energy and enterprise, and associated with him are W. A. Ramsay of Colorado Swrings, and other strong men. Together they are a power and have ably financed the company, determined to make it a complete success. It is learned that there is no stock for sale.

WIRES NEVER DOWN. WIRES NEVER DOWN.

The service since the opening of these stations has been uninterrupted, these stations has been uninterrupted, and while more than four thousand messages have been transmitted here has been neither delay nor error reported. The "wires" are never down; storms have no effect; the subtle waves of force are carried with unerring accuracy, and with the velocity of the lightning's flash to the receiving instrument, so delicately planned as to be ten thousand times more sensitive than the human ear. SEVERE TEST.

A severe test was given the wire-less company on the first night (Tues-day last) of its press service, as a rain and electrical storm of almost un-precedented violence was then raging, but the report came through without a single interruption or error, prov-ing the efficiency of the service beyond the peradventure of a doubt.

MILITIAMEN AT SEA GOVERNOR SURPRISED THEM.

The act of Gov. Pardee withholding executive approval of either of the two bills relating to the National Guard passed by the last Legislature has caused some surprise among members of the organization hereabouts, but there does not seem to be any disposition to criticise him therefor. If, as has been stated, his reason for withholding his approval was his doubt as to whether either bill was adequate, there can be no fault found with his action. About the only really regretable thing about it is that it continues for at least two years more the present top-heavy organization of three brigades and a division where only one brigade is necessary. The present law provides expressly for three brigades and a division. It is reliably stated, however, that the Legislature only appropriated money for one brigade. So far as the advantages to be derived from the national statute known as the Dick bill are concerned, it does not appear from that measure that any state legislation is necessary to make these available to State troops. The only provision in that statute relating to this point is expressed in the follow-

That the regularly enlisted, organized and of the approval of this Act.

It will be seen from the above that participation heretofore or hereafter in the apportionment of the designated appropriation constitutes the "regularly enlisted, organized and uniformed active militia of the several States," etc., the organized militia of the United States, and that it is required that within five years from the date of the approval of the act the "organization, armanent and discipiline" of the organization, armanent and discipiline" of the organization.

with that or the very have five years from January 21, 1903, in which to effect this.

It is probable that Gov. Pardee found that both of the bills placed before him were defective in that they permitted, if they did not require, some divergence in the organization, armament and discipline of the State militia from that of the regular army, and therefore did not comply with the requirements of the Dick bill. The bill known as the Adjutant-General's bill provides that the National Guard "shall be organized, equipped and maintained as near as possibly in conformity with the Dick bill, whereas, the Dick bill their their requires complete conformity in the three things designated by the words, "organization, armament and discipline." The bill known as the Prescott bill authorised an organization wherein two regiments of infantry or cavalry should constitute a brigade, and two brigades a division, but giving to the Governor the discretion to vary this disposition at any time he deemed proper. This would seem to give the Governor at least discretionary power to vary the State organization from that of the egular army and if it does the Prescott bill is to that extent, at least, inconsistent with the Dick bill. But, while the Dick bill requires that the States shall within five years from the date of its approval bring the organization, armament and discipline of their militia into harmony with the regular army, there does not seem to be anything in it to prevent them from immediately entering upon the enjoyment of the privileges and advantages which it confers, such as exchanging the Springfield rifles for the magasine arm, the obtaining of other military supplies from the government, etc. The Dick bill is undoubtedly in harmony with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States relating to the militia of the States subject to direct call by the President in the manner prescribed. A party of Los Angeles people, who will leave here April 12 for New York, en route for , the continent are I. Weld, his daughter. Miss Weld: Miss Anne Hendricks, Miss Esther Milner and Miss Clara Milner. They will visit in Chicago and New York, sailing from the latter city April 25. The other members of the party have not made definite plans, but the Misses Milner will be away about eighteen months. The party will visit Denmark, as well as Middle Europe. In Dresden the Misses Milner will join their elder sister. Miss Milner, who has been studying in Germany a year. Mrs. Milner will probably join her daughters next year, and spend a few months with them before they return.

The young ladies have been recelying many pleasant farewell attentions and several informal gatherings are planned for the intervening ten days.

The Programme Committee of the Friday Morning Club has issued the April prospectus, announcing the following lectures:

Priday, April 3, "Kipling and Imperialism," Prof. Henry Morse Stephens, University of California; Saturday, April 4, 8:15 p.m., University Extension April 4, 8:15 p.m., University Extension lecture, "The Romantic Historians;" Friday, April 10, "The High Sherra." Prof. Joseph LeConte, University of California; luncheon; Tuesday, April 14, 3 to 5 p.m., the club tea, the board of directors will receive the club members with their friends; Friday, April 17, "The Effect of Irrigation on Western Civilization," William E. Smythe, president California Constructive, Storm-bound at Hemet.

When Willard H. Stimson, who left the city Thursday with his four-in-hand for Strawberry Valley to bring back Mrs. Stimson and a party of friends, said. "We'll return Tuesday," he made a sure-enough mistake, for last night the party was water bound at Hemet on the return trip, and put up at the Hemet Elotel to wait till the clouds roll by.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Stimson, there are in the party Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fleming, and daughter. Miss Fleming: Mrs. C. F. Taggart, and Miss Heien Taggart.

Firming. and daughter. Miss Fleming. Mrs. C. F. Taggart. and Miss Heien Taggart.

For Miss Lord.

Among the numerous attentions that have been showered upon Miss Louier Lord of Alhambra during these last days before her marriage, was a jolly quilting party given by Miss Bishop, the groom's sister, at her Alhambra residence.

Although an Alhambra girl, Miss Lord's four years' connection with the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A. has given her many friends in this city, and over twenty went from here and others gathered from Pasadena and Alhambra. Dra. and the afternoon's work resulted in four quilts for the new home. A merry hour over the daintily served refreshments closed the afternoon.

Arkland-Shiffler.

Miss Mable Shiffler of Joplin, Mo., and C. F. Arkland were married Sunday afternoon at the home of the groom's family, No. 1975 Maple avenue, Dr. P. H. Bresee, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating. About twenty relatives and friends were present. The bride wore a tailor-male gown of blue cioth, and was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Arkland are at No. 118 East Fifth street, where they will reside.

Birthday Compliment.

Mrs. James T. Neighbors was delightfully surprised by a number of friends Saturday evening in honor of ther birthday. Progressive whist was played, after which elaborate refreshments were served. The honors were sendent during the current year has acted as chairman of the Hospitality Committee.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. DOUBT, uncertainty, fear of failure, are the great enemies of mankind. No man ever yet accomplished a great deed with a doubt doubting his mind. The miracles of civilization have been performed by men and women who believed in themselves. In spite of ridicule, incredulity and abuse they maintained unwavering faith in their power to accomplish the tasks to which they had set themselves.

when Prof. Bell was struggling slong in poverty experimenting with the telephone, people laughed at him for throwing his time away. They told him that the telephone would never be saything but a toy, and that it could not possibly be put to practical use, but he believed in himself and suc-

WON OUT ON SELF-CONFIDENCE. Very few had faith in Capt. Eads when he claimed that he could span the Mississippi River at St. Louis with wheel that the bridge would be a success before it was built as afterward.

Elias Howe was ridiculed for neglecting his family and his regular work and living in poverty while experimenting on the sewing machine, but he had the utmost confidence in its final triumph, and, as a result, lived to give the world one of its most useful implements of labor.

The list of those who have smile to give the world one of its most are ful implements of labor.

The list of those who have, amid unbellef, jeers, discouragements, obstacles of all kinds, banked, so to speak, solely upon their belief in themselves is a long one.

Self-confidence is a wonder-worker which marshals all one's faculties and twists their united strength into one wighty success cable.

twists their united strength into one mighty success cable.

One of the most pitiable sights in the world is that of a man who has no opinion of his own on any subject; who hesitates to put an estimate even on himself; who doubts if he can succeed, and is always complaining that the world is against him, or that he is "down on his luck."

RATE YOURSELF HIGH.

Sal-depreciation is a crime. A perion who habitually berates his ability as objectionable as one who continmaily praises himself. "A man cannot spire if he looks down." If you would be you must look up. "The just honring of ourselves," says Milton, "may However, a lift, I know I could get on." However, a lift, I know I could not be a greater fallacy. All great achievers, all leaders of men, have placed their whole reliance, under Ged, on themselves.

One of our "captains of industry," who began life as a day laborer, religing to the question, "How do you apain your rapid promotion?" said: "In the first place, I always stood on it feat a life first place, I always stood on it feat a life first place, I always stood on it is only on yourself you know it is only on yourself you know it is only on your merit that you will succeed. awake discover your latent powers, on your mentite to do your utmost. POWER OF CONFIDENT BELIEF.

A man's success in life is in proportion to his confidence in himself condi-

A man's access in life is in propor-tion to his confidence in himself, and the ability, energy and persistence with which he pursues his aim. The man who is settly discouraged or who is easily discouraged or aside from his purpose will never win.

giant's arm, when divorced from the force of will, can sustain but a fraction of the weight it did a moment before it was disconnected. The giant lifted a ton weight because he because he because he believed he could. Blondin's ability to cross the Niagara on a rope resided in the confidence that he could do it. Oh, what miracles self-confidence has wrought? What impossible deeds it has helped to perform! It took Dewey past cannons, torpedoes and mines to victory in Manila Bay: It carried Farragut, lashed to the rigging, past the defenses of the enemy rigging, past the defenses of the enemy in Mobile Bay; it led Nelson and Grant to victory; it has been the great tonic in the world of invention, discovery, and art; it has won a thousand triumphs in war and science, which were deemed impossible by fainthearted doubters.

Paradise tempt him, is the man who accomplishes things.

If teachers and parents could only realize the infinite possibilities they can bring within the reach of the child, and art; it has won a thousand triumphs in war and science, which were deemed impossible by fainthearted doubters.

SUCCCESS YOUR BIRTHRIGHT.

Stoutly deny the power of adversity or poverty to keep you down. Constantly assert your superiority to your environment: believe that you are to dominate your surroundings, that you are to be the master and not the slave of circumstances. This very assertion of superiority, the assumption of power, the affirmation of belief in your ability to succeed, the mental attitude that claims success as an inalienable birthity to succeed, the mental attitude that claims success as an inalienable birth-right will strengthen the whole man and give great power to the combination of faculties which doubt, after and lack of confidence undermine.

The greatest artist in the world could not paint the face of a Madonna with a model of depravity in his mind. You cannot succeed while holding to the thought of failure. Holding the success thought on the contrary, brightens your outlook, scatters the specters of doubt and fear, and sends a power through you which will revolutionize your position and transform you into an achiever.

When you have chosen your vocation, and are satisfied that you are working along the line of your strength instead of your weakness, let no obstacle, however great, no friend, however dear, turn you aside from your purpose.

WEBSTER'S BELIEF IN HIMSELF.

VEBSTER'S BELIEF IN HIMSELF. Daniel Webster's father used all his influence to secure his son the position of clerk of the Court of Common. Pleas of Hillsborough county. New Hampshire. A salary of $1000 a year, which seemed a veritable fortune to the struggling family was attached to the office. Yet, as much as he loved his family. Daniel was brave enough to disappoint them, all and he loved his family. Daniel was brave enough to disappoint them all and cling to the study of law. In answer to his father's sorrowful "Daniel, Daniel, don't you mean to take that office?" he replied. "No. Indeed, father, I hope I can do much better than that. I mean to use my tongue in the courts, not my pen: to be an actor, not a register of other men's acts. I hope yet, sir, to astonish your honor in your own court by my professional attainments."

complished.

ASSUME APPEARANCE OF SUCCESS.

"Assume a virtue if you have it not." is sound advice. There is a great deal in assuming the part or character you desire to play in life's drama. If you wish to take the part of a successful man you must assume the mental attitude, the outward manner of one. It is not difficult to pick out a successful man on the street. If he is a leader whence every worthy enterprise issues forth. Every one may be sustained by the proper indulgence of this feeling and be lifted up by it."

A poor Scotch miller used to pray tally that he might have a better spinion of himself. And why not. Can I sak another to have confidence in me when I do not believe in myself. The Chinese say that it never mays to respect a man who does not respect himself, and self-respect lies also to self-confidence.

The world has a right to look to us for our own rating. We stamp our value upon ourselves, and cannot expect to pass for more. When you are introduced to people, they look into rour face and eyes to see what estimate you place upon yourself. If they brouble themselves to investigate and and whether or not you have rated hourself too low? This is a busy world, and whether or not you have rated hourself too low? This is a busy world, and men have no time to spend analyzate timid, self-depreciating characters. They prefer to take people at their avaluation until they prove themselves may be a lift, I know I could get on." How the we hear this cry from back-baseless people, who are afraid to true to themselves for anything.

There could not be served faller.

There could not be served faller.

There are may be sustained in the rice is as search in the served in the self-confidence and an iron will is the plaything of chance, the puppet of his environment, the slave of chroumstances. With these he is king, ever master of the situation. There never before was a time when persistent original force was so much in demand as now. The namby-pamby, nerveless man has little show in the hustling, bustling world of today. To feel that you are equal to the situation is to conquer in advance. In order to insure success, confidence must always precede action.

It would be as reasonable for Napoleon to have expected to get his army over the Alps by sitting down and declaring that the undertaking was too great for him as for you to hope to achieve anything significant in life while harboring doubts and fears as to your success.

Your achievement will never rise higher than your confiden-self. The man who carries The man who carries

SUCCCESS YOUR BIRTHRIGHT.

"The first step to failure is the first doubt of yourself." If you would succeed up to the limit of your possibilities, hold constantly to the belief that you are success-organized, and that you will reach your goal, no matter what opposes. Never allow a shadow of doubt to enter your mind that the Creator intended him to unfold into an oak—not a crabbed or dwarfed oak, but a magnificent giant of the forest that will furnish shade for man and beast and timber for a ship or a house. Impress upon the child your faith in him; tell him that you will not.

What matters it if you are poor, or if your environment is unfavorable. Such conditions should incite you to greater effort, arouse your more indomitable determination to conquer. Stoutly deny the power of adversity or poverty to keep you down. Constantly assert your superiority to your environment; believe that you are to dominate your surroundings, that you are to be the master and not the slave of circumstances. Tyndall Justified.

The fact that the "world do move," and that, too, with startling rapidity, is well exemplified in the success of Dr. Alex. J. McIvor-Tyndall, the famous exponent of the power of thought, who has been engaged for two special matlines at the Burbank Theater next Thursday and Friday. At the time that Dr. McIvor-Tyndall put forward his theories some fifteen years ago, they were looked upon as the wild ideas of a crank enthusiast. At that time Tyndall was a medical student in London, where his father was a well-known surgeon. He held to the idea that thought is a force in itself, electrical in essence, and that every living thing is in itself a complete electrical hattery. He not only made this statement, but he proceeded to back it up by experiments. There had been buf one person of note who possessed the McIvor-Tyndall faculty to any extent. That was Washington irving Bishop, who claimed to accomplish the wonderful feats through spirit power. The absolute accuracy of Dr. McIvor-Tyndall's theories and deductions is already established in the wireless telegraph system and also by the recent experiments of Prof. Loeb of Chicago. NEW YORK, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The officers of the various cable companies were today interested in the fact "--- day-by-day transand England by the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy has been un-dertaken for the London Times, upon a contract basis, but all refused to say what effect the regular commer-cial transmission of news by the Marconi company would have on the present cable rates. There are many vacant places in our picture gallery. Many of them have been refilled, but there are still vacancies. When we advertised a half-price sale it was for the purpose of selling out our pictures before tearing up our picture gallery preparatory to remodeling it. There are hundreds of pleasing subjects left, each one appropriately framed. If there is a vacant space on your walls fill it with Barker pictures, while you can get them at half price.

Combined effort of all the quasi-public corporations in the city—street railway, gas, electric lighting and telephone companies—has been exerted to prevent the adoption by the Council of an ordinance regarding excavations which was framed by the City Attorney at the request of the Street Superintendent.

torney at the request of the Street Superintendent.

Last Monday the ordinance was scheduled to go through on a favorable report from the Committee on Legislation composed of Skilling, McAleer and Farish. The report was witten and unanimously signed by the members of the committee. Work in the lobby by the representatives of the corporations prevented the ordinance from appearing in the Council chamber, as Skilling and Farish eventually withdrew their names from the report. The companies allege that the city cannot legally enforce the ordinance is somewhat in question, despite the stand taken by Street Superintendent Werdin that it should immediately be adopted for the protection of his department.

the street department for doing the work.

After providing that it shall be unlawful for any company to make any excavation in a public street without obtaining a permit from the Street Superintendent, the ordinance says:

"The person, firm or corporation desiring such permit shall file with the Street Superintendent a written application therefor, describing specifically the work to be done, and the purpose thereof, and pay to the Street Superintendent a fee of $1$ therefor, and shall deposit with said superintendent a sum equal to 40 cents per square foot of surface of the excavation or excavations, in the case of street or other places macadamized or paved with asphaltum of bituminous rock; a sum equal to 20 cents for each square foot of surface of the excavations, in the case of gravel streets or places; a sum equal to 10 cents for each square foot of surface of the excavation or excavations in the trace of the excavation or excavations in the streets or places which are neither. servation, in the case of gravel cents for each square for the Excavation of excavations in the case of gravel cents for each square for the excavation of the excavation in the question as the excavation of the excavation of excavations in the excavation of the excavation of the excavation of excavations in the excavation of excavations in the excavation of the excavation of excavations in the excavation of excavations in the excavation of the excavation of

in some manner against the improper refilling of all sorts of excavations. It often happens that the earth is put into a hole and tamped just enough so that it looks all sight until the rains come. Then the dirt becomes more compact, and the street department has to fill the hole. This may be weeks after the excavation was dug and filled Consequently Superintendent Werdin-maintains that a small charge in the nature of a fee should be paid for each permit, and this money, conserved in an improvement fund to meet just such expenses. He also believes that sufficient deposit to protect the city should be exacted from the companies that are continually tearing up paved and graveled streets.

Unless the power of the lobby is too strong, the ordinance, with certain minor amendments, may be reported at the next session of the Council.

For the six months ending January 1, 1903, it cost the city $118,746.91 to maintain the street department. Of this sum $54,511.24 was spent for labor, and the rest for materials. The superintendent says he has been put to greater expense thus far this year, owing to the condition of the bridges and the necessity for repairs on the feels that the large corporations should protect the city against unnecessary expense in filling their excavations.

SINGLETON NAMED NEW POLICE SECRETARY.

Marshal E. Singleton has been chosen Marshal E. Singleton has been chosen as the new secretary of the police department. He will succeed Ray E. Cottie, who was recently derated. Singleton has been in the department since 1893, and bears a good reputation. The appointment was made by Chief Elton, and confirmed by the Police Commission yesterday morning.

Discussion has been caused by the action of the Police Commission in passing a resolution placing the ap-action of the Police Commission in passing a resolution placing the appointment of policemen under civil service and then making promotions without examination. Members of the commission are of the opinion that the charter provisions regarding civil service do not apply to the police department, but this view is at variance with that of well-informed city officials, who declare that the Police Commission has the arbitrary power of dismissal, but not the power of appointment or promotion, except upon a merit basis.

The Police Commission will meet this morning to decide upon the promotion and temporary appointment of ten men as recommended by the Council on Monday. Next Monday the first session of the Police Pension Fund Commission will be held.

line of the outfall sewer just east of Western avenue yesterday afternoon. The bursting of the wooden stave pipe this side of one of the inverted siphons tore a great hole in mother earth, and flooded the surrounding country. It was the opinion of the Councilmen that some equipment should be furnished the superintendent to enable him to repair breaks in the pipe. At present it takes several days to get an engine and other apparatus on the ground. Instead of rebanding the pipe line in the alkali flats at an estimated cost of $10,000, it is probable that the Sewer Committee will recommend that the city worry along with the old pipe until the new gravity outfall sewer can be constructed.

Damage to Streets.

Damage to Streets.

Some damage was done to city streets by the steady downpour yesterday. The street department held its men in reserve to answer complaints about flooded cellars and crumbling banks of earth. "Damage to the streets by the heavy rains will amount to at least $39,000," said Superintendent Werdin last night. "The gravel coating has been washed away, and small cuts made here and there."

COUNTY FARM RIPPED OUT.

Wretched Conditions Shown by Grand Jury.

Report Filed With Court Warm and Comprehensive.

Poor Old City Jail Ge's Another Dig-County Hospital Looking Up.

The County Farm comes in for a "roast" in the final report of the grand lury which was presented yesterday. The grand jury reported at noon to Judge Smith and was discharged from further service with a short speech from the court, thanking the jurors for their service.

The report is enormously long. The county books are all found to be in good condition. The need of a new city jail and of new county-hospital buildings is emphasized. When it comes to the County Farm, the jury simply turns red in the face. This is what the report says:
"We regret that the farm is in an un-we regret that the farm is in an un-satisfactory condition, for this season of the year. We think, properly man-aged, the farm can produce vegetables enough for its own use.

"In looking over the place we found neither peas, Irish potatoes, nor any other westable such as should now be

If prop-erly managed, enough suitable hay could be raised to feed the stock during wet weather, thus keeping them from damaging the land by pasturing. We think that more feed should be raised that is suitable for milch cowa.

could be raised to feed the stock during wet weather, thus keeping them is from damaging the land by pasturing. We think that more feed should be raised that is suitable for milch cowa. The barley hay such as is being used is poor food for such cattle. Taken altogether, the farm seems to be in good condition.

"Men's ward: At present there are 200 male inmates of the farm. We regret to say that we find the men's ward for the county's poor in a very unsanitary condition—a condition which seriously reflects on the county. The wards in many instances are overcrowded and filty.

"We find in many cases that the bedding is filthy and unfit to be used. Many of the mattresses are old, and very unclean—one of which has been used by an inmate for thirteen years without having been cleaned or renovated. This filthy condition of some of the bedding and overcrowding of the wards make the place unhealthy.

"We also find that the beds are leaded to the county and unfit to be used. The Redondo Jail is an old wooden to the bedding and overcrowding of the wards make the place unhealthy.

"The rooms are generally covered disagreeable. This of itself increases the suffering of those who are afficted with astima or rheumatism. We recommend the installation of a heating plant as an actual necessity.

"We recommend the establishment of a laundry with such modern conveniences as will enable the impates to dry clothes without being forced to dry them in the wards."

The jury also recommends the purchase of some cuspidors, as the Quaker-brand fruit cans, now in use, do not reflect credit on the county and they can't be cleaned well.

The report goes on: "We find, however, that the unsanitary condition of the various wards is not due to any neglect of the superintendent, but to the fact that the county provides no one to look after this matter, the superintendent having to rely on the inmates to perform this service.

"We do not blame the inmates for their condition. We know not the causes. Neither would we find fault with broken-down machinery with one-third of the cogs gone and with patched and raged belts, for we expect the same kind of work from both. But we do blame the man or the power that uses either one or both and expects results not in harmony with the implements used.

"We do not feel like censuring the superintendent, for it is difficult to do better with the forces at his disposal. We wonder that he accepted the position if he fully understood the conditions."

tions."

The women's ward at the farm is commended, and so is the matron who has it in charge.

COUNTY HOSPITAL.

In regard to the County Hospital, the grand jury has this to say: "We find most of the present buildings inadequate and unfit for occupancy, and were it not for the fact that the Board of Supervisors has wisely decided to erect some new buildings, we could enter into a lengthy argument of the wisdom of such action.
"Most of the present hospital buildings are a biot on the fair name of our county. In addition to the bad sanitary conditions, made possible by antiquity, the cost of maintenance is largely increased; but with modern structures and equipment more effective work could be accomplished at reduced cost."

CITY JAIL

The poor old Los Angeles City Jail comes in for severe remarks, although it is conceded that the police are doing te is conceded that the police are doing severything in their power to make the best of the conditions. The report says that place is badly designed and ill suited for the purpose of housing prisoners. The women's department is reported as equally unsuited for the women prisoners and the matron.

shrequent. The conditions which make business solvency comparatively says are the conditions which reduce the hazards of banking. A change, between, and not for the better, seems yow at hand. Suspensions have become more frequent and banks of some standing outside of their own summinities have lately suspended. It is possible that same of these institutions should have gone out-of usiness long ago. They have been able to maintain the show of solvency in these good times without posessing its substance. Recurring pressure in the money market and increased caution in the extension of credit are influences that tend strongly to expose weak elements in the business and banking situation. Industrial prosperity has been so steady for some time that business men are inclined to push their affairs far beyond their normal scope, and if the banks prove complacent enough to aid them in their speculative enterprises the consequence of having too generously discounted the future may mean, in a close money market, commercial and hanking disaster. Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

Potatces, Onions and Vegetables. close money market, commercial and banking disaster. Very largely the cause of bank failures may be traced to the pernicious practice of making disproportionately large advances on a single hazard. A bank that stakes most of its money in this way may if the thing proves successful make a large profit; but if it does not, ruin is generally unavoidable. This is not a new discovery in the principles which should govern the practice of banking. The earliest failures of banks probably illustrated it. But there are so many new banks pringing up everywhere and so many men undertaking to operate them without previous training that perhaps 8: 2: Orogon, 1.1091.25; High-slinas, 1.11.91.25; Nevada, gon, fancy, 1.15-21.25; Nevada, CORPORATIONS Among those issuing shares are the various public utilities—Electric Railways, Lighting and Power, Gas and Water Companies, as well as private corporations, including Brick, Tile, Soap, Iron Pipe and Machinery, Ice, Refining, Brewery and many other manufacturing or industrial companies. All are prosperous in business, income and profits, while growing at a most encouraging rate to keep pace with the progress of our favored country and the increase in population, wealth and demand for their manufactured products. The tremendous growth and development of Mining, Oil Products on Alefining, Agriculture Horticulture, Fisheries, etc., have created a permanent demand for the products of the companies above mentioned—and whose shares, many of them paying regular and increasing dividends, form an inviting inducement to investors. There is a good market and demand for this class of securities at all times and my long experience will aid in securing either.

VENTURA COUNTY. SHOOTING NEAR OXNARD.

OXNARD, March 31.—About 11 o'clock at night, while Andre Garcia, foreman of a non-union gang of beet thinners working on the ranch of Charles Arnold, was returning from Hueneme, his horse was shot from under him.

When Carcia started home from Hueneme astride one of his employer's horses, he soon perceived that there were three horsemen behind him. Beyond Eastwood's ranch three shots were fired at him, one buillet penetrating the saddle blankets and lodging in the horse's shoulder. The horse fell, throwing Garcia, and the men behind node away. Garcia's horse was not seriously hurt and he got it to its feet and rode home.

Garcia has no idea of the identity of his assailants, but thinks the attack an outgrowth of the labor troubles. He has refused to join the union, and claims to have been frequently threatened with injury, has at times worked his gang for the Western Agricultural Contracting Company, and thereby has accentuated the feeling against him in union ranks. He is also working for Charles Arnold, the deputy Sheriff, who, the union claims, shot one of its men in the riot.

William I Wilkinson of Pomona Reads Paper on "Christopher Columbus-The Catholic," at Monthly Dinner.

"Christopher Columbus—the Cath-ic," was the subject of a paper pre-christopher Columous—the Cathcollic." was the subject of a paper presented by William J. Wilkinson of Pomona at a meeting of the Newman Club last evening at Levy's. Despite the storm, there was a generous attendance of club members. Mr. Wilkinson said in part:

"Columbus was profoundly religious and exemplified his maxim. To the greater glory of God, in all his achievements. Born in the magnificent city of Genoa in 1436, he was given at baptism the highly symbolical name of 'Christopher' (the Christ-bearer.) He received careful religous and recular training in his early youth, and at the ageof 15 chose the life of a sailor. The story of his early manhood is largely conjectural. Certain it is these years were stormy, laborious and eventful.
He says of them: Wherever ship has sailed, there have I journeyed.

"He prepared himself for his great mission by reading and meditating on the works of ancient writers, study of the scriptures, history of the church, and all things pertaining to Christian civilization, so that when he came to plead the cause of the New World in the council at Salamanca, as one writer puts it, he appeared as a prophet in the flesh, by reason of his seclesiastical, scriptural and sacred learning and by the power and eloquence of his arguments."

"He felt himself the instrument of God, chosen to accomplish a vast design. His motives were, he says, the Christianizing of unknown peoples, the extension of the possessions of his sovereigns, and the winning of an honorable name for hims-if and family.
These accomplished, he proposed to wrest the Holy Land from the infidels.
For eighteen years, through poverty, opprobrium, deceit and disdain, he steadfastiy moved toward the goal of his ambition.

"From the time he landed in Spain until the time of his sailing we find opprobrium, decelt and disdain, he steadfastly moved toward the goal of his ambition.

"From the time he landed in Spain until the time of his sailing we find him always associating with the friars—and the only friends he mentions with gratitude in his after letters, are the two Franciscans, Diego de Deza, afterward Bishop of Seville, and Father Juan Perez, prior of La Rabids. He spent much time in prayer and meditation, observed all the fasts, attended mass daily, and regularly received the whole canonical office. He devoutly followed the teaching of St. Pancis of Assisi. His enemies have said that selfsha and avaricious motives mingled with his ambitions. Posterity declares the charge most unjust.

"His great humanity toward all fellow-belings, his unswerving fidelity to Holy Church and the sovereigns, whose viceroy he was, proclaim him one of the greatest spirits of this earth. The Spanish word, 'longanimidad,' signifying greatness and constantcy of mind, in adversity, has been well applied in describing him."

RAILWAY EXTENSION.

The City Council of South Pasadena has been asked for another electric-railway franchise by the Pacific Electric. The company wishes to change its route in the southern suburb along lines suggested seweral months ago. The idea is to continue westward on Mission street from Meridian avenue to Palermo avenue and there connect with the short line, doing away with the south Pasadena viaduct and a number of curves for a time. The company guarantees to pay $1200 at least for the branchise. It is not understood that this change is to be permanent, but simply to permit the company to road-gauge its present system at this point. RAILWAY EXTENSION.

dents and failed in some cases to make any report direct to the proper official.

Several instances of recent date are cited, wherein the Coroner received information only in a roundabout way long after the occurrence of fatalities that required official investigation. The murder committed by the Santa Monica car robbers on the night of March 21 was not reported to the Coroner at all. He read of it in the newspapers of the following morning, and in the mean time the body of the victim had been carried from Los Angeles to Santa Monica and return. The Coroner had no opportunity to summon such witnesses as he desired and his investigation naturally was hampered to a considerable extent.

Other cases of which he received no notice until the following day, and then only indirectly, were those of a man killed by a Santa Monica car on Sixteenth street two weeks ago and of a laborer killed Monday at Playa del Rey. Undertakers had the bodies long before the Coroner had an opportunity to view them.

"My office is well organized for immediate response to every call made on it," said Dr. Trout yesterday, "and there is no good reason why I should not receive prompt notice of every sudden death that requires my attention. It is absolutely necessary that I should be notified at once if proper results are to be obtained in investigations.

"While my relations with the undertakers of the city are most pleasant, I must insist that they notify me promptly of any Coroner's cases that may come into their hands. If they continue to break rules I shall tighten the requirements, and when they take a body from any playe without giving me notice I shall insist that
